VAN BENTON WILL RUN FOR SHERIFF

Popular Democrat Announces His Candidacy For Office He Filled Before So Well

Van Benton, who nearly four years ago, made one of the very best sheriffs that Madison county ever had, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for sheriff, subject to the action of the Democratic party next August.

For some time his friends have been urging Mr. Benton to become a candidate, and although it is understood that he did not care to go into a hard primary fight, assurances of such strong support all over the country are said to have come to him unsolicited, that his friends are satisfied that he will have no opposition within his own party. A number of his friends are said to feel that his personal popularity and his record of service to the people of Madison county before was so good and made him so many friends regardless of party, that they hardly expect the Republicans to seriously oppose him.

Mr. Benton is one of the best known stock and cattle dealers in Madison county, and one of its leading Democrats. It is perhaps not an exaggeration to say that he is probably the most popular man in Madison county personally. If he has an enemy, no one knows who he is. Straightforward, the soul of honor in all his dealings, honest as the days are long, and with a good word for every one, Van Benton is respected and beloved by all. He will be the next sheriff of Madison county. Stick a pin in that.

STUDENT INFUX AT NORMAL SCHOOL

Second Term Brings Biggest Enrollment In History of School

More Men Seek Education

With the influx of students at the Eastern Normal for the second term, which is opening, now already numbers more than 50, and more coming in, the enrollment for this term is proving another record breaker, and the end is not in sight. Indications are that the record will be by far the greatest in the history of the institution. The present enrollment represents the complete original list for the original term, and indications are that there will be many more. The extraordinary list was not a great surprise to the management, and preparations for their comfort are under way. The boys' dormitory is filled and that for the girls is rapidly filling. It is expected the capacity will be taxed when all of the arrivals have place. There will be another increase at the commencement of third term, which will be next February. This will be the time when a number of rural teachers, after having finished their terms of school, will scroll for additional work. It is believed by this time the new dormitories will have been finished and be ready for occupancy.

A noticeable feature of the enrollment who are reporting. This has been in evidence for some time, but not to such a pronounced degree as at present. The enrollment generally will thus show a decided increase and according to the management, the prospects for a year that will exceed even that of last year, which was out of the ordinary, is in view.

The regular class instruction, together with the arrangement of the new students, improvement of buildings which is being continued, makes the place busier than usual.

Son-in-Law Weds His Divorced Wife's Mother

(By Associated Press) Paducah, Ky., Dec. 1—Holding that the Kentucky statute barring the marriage of son-in-law to mother-in-law would not be sustained by the higher courts, County Judge Lang today dismissed Walter Thornton, who married his divorced wife's mother.

Noted Turfman Dead

MUCH TOBACCO IS BEING STRIPPED

Weather Conditions Ideal and Extensive Work Is In Evidence Report of Blight Attack

"The greatest ever," said a number of tobacco men when asked regarding the stripping of tobacco these days. The work is said to be more extensively in evidence than at any time since the weed was cut and placed in the sheds. The prevailing damp weather has added much to the working forces, since there are many who have failed thus far to make much headway regarding stripping. It is said there has been more tobacco stripped during the past ten days than during the previous month, and conditions indicate a continuation of the work. For some time the weather was such as to cause the weed to dry to an exceptional degree and some was damaged by the wind where not completely enclosed. However, the period of wet weather had enabled the owners to get their crops to good shape, since the beginning of the annual sales is not far off.

There is much grading of tobacco this year; in fact, more than the usual attention is being devoted to this in order to enable the owner to at once grade his product upon looking at it after it has been prepared for the market. This has been advocated by some at the head of the burley association who have taken much interest in the preparation of the crop for the year. The graduation will also enable the purchaser to at once realize the condition as well as the grade of tobacco and eliminate much chance and waste of time in deciding upon the quality. The tobacco is said to be very good, medium and bad. While these elements are usually in evidence, they are attracting more than the usual attention since the scare from rust and blight created some time ago caused much speculation regarding the outcome. Some report their crops untouched, and claim the quantity of injured tobacco will be very small, while others say they will lose considerable good quality product as a result of the blight.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK OBJECT OF ADDRESS

Wednesday night at the Methodist church the Rev. William A. Brown, D. D., of Chicago, will deliver an address. Dr. Brown is director of commission evangelism for the International Sunday School Association. His present tour of Kentucky is under the auspices of the Kentucky Sunday School Association. The purpose of the tour is to promote the educational and evangelistic interests of Sunday School work; to establish community organizations for promotion of Sunday School work; to strengthen county Sunday School organizations; and to help and encourage all Sunday School workers.

Dr. Brown will deliver his address at 7:30. Several of the churches of the city have adjourned their prayer meetings to attend. Dr. George A. Joplin, president of the Kentucky State Sunday School Association, will be present.

OPENS LAW OFFICE HERE

Col. R. C. Oldham

His many friends here are welcoming back home Col. Ronald C. Oldham, who has returned to open up a law office in the Oldham building. It is understood also that he will maintain offices at Lexington for the practice of his profession.

Col. Oldham has been practicing law most successfully at Winchester for several years, but desired to return to Richmond, his boyhood home, to be with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Oldham. He and his attractive family, consisting of his wife and two handsome little sons, will receive a cordial welcome here.

May Stop Immigration To Formulate New Law

(By Associated Press) Washington, Dec. 1—Complete stoppage of immigration for six months while Congress is drafting general law to cover the whole immigration question, was proposed in a bill which Senator King, of Utah, democratic member of the Senate Immigration Committee, is preparing for introduction soon after Congress meets Monday. King said the admission of aliens to this country must be made more difficult and that it was necessary to prohibit any of the people from foreign countries who are inoculated with red tendencies from entering the United States.

Court Holds War Not Over; Soldier Freed

(By Associated Press) Louisville, Dec. 1—In deciding a case here today, Federal Judge Evans held that the war was not over. He ordered Meade county officials to release Lee Mitchell from jail where he was confined for refusing to work on roads because at the time he held a position at Camp Henry Knox. Judge Evans commended Mitchell for remaining at his post of duty and termed Mitchell's incarceration a great injustice to him, the government and the army.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK OBJECT OF ADDRESS

Wednesday night at the First Christian church, the annual memorial exercises will be held by members of the Richmond lodge of Elks for the purpose of commemorating the departed members of the order. A special program is being arranged and the Lodge of Sorrows, as it is generally known upon this date, will be attended by a number of visitors from out of the city who happen to be here at this time.

RICHMOND MAN NAMED ON HARBORS COMMITTEE

Delegates to represent Kentucky at the National Rivers and Harbors congress to be held in Washington, D. C., on December 8, 9 and 10, appointed by Governor Edwin P. Morrow, include J. B. DELEGATION TO Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION

Ten Students From Eastern Normal To Be At Berea—Noted Speakers On Program

Richmond will be represented at the annual State Students' Y. M. C. A. convention at Berea, which begins Friday and continues until Monday evening, through a member of the faculty and ten delegates from the Eastern Normal school. Prof. G. D. Smith, of the department of science, will head the delegation. Besides him there will be ten student delegates, and a report of the convention will be made soon after their return at a union service meeting to be called.

The convention this year will be a most important one, since there will be new features taken up and others introduced by able speakers. The program is one that promises to keep the officiating corps and attendance busily engaged throughout the session. Among the speakers will be Rev. Petrie, of Boston; Dr. Kessler, of Nashville, Tenn., and others. There will be a number of Kentuckians who will make reports and a list of the excellent working centers, of which Richmond is one, will be included. The progress at the Eastern Normal, thru a number of original features in the way of educational events, will render the report from this section very interesting and compare favorably with those from other districts.

The local delegation will depart on Friday afternoon at 12:45 o'clock, returning late Monday evening or Tuesday. The report will be announced after their return. It is expected a union meeting will be held at which a general report of the convention will be made. The Y. W. C. A. will be invited to attend this meeting in order to be informed of what was done at the big meeting.

DODDS

The people of Dodds met at the school house Thanksgiving day and had a good old-fashioned time. A play, "The First Thanksgiving Day," was given. The old-time fireplace made by Mr. Winkler was the delight of everyone. The spinning wheel seemed to take all back to the good old days. After the play a dinner of turkey, cranberries and various salads was served to 68 persons. In the afternoon, Mr. Everett Lanter spoke on "What We Have to Be Thankful For." He handled the subject in such a way as to make everyone in Dodds proud of him.

Miss Beulah Lanter gave the young folks a party Friday night. A large crowd was present and all reported an enjoyable time.

Mr. James Cornelison and granddaughter, Anna B., visited Mr. Tharp Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fount Winkler and daughter, Nancy, spent the weekend with Mrs. Winkler's father near Richmond.

Misses Beulah Lanter and Jennie Tharp were guests of Misses Sallie and Lizzie King Sunday evening.

ELKS' MEMORIAL SERVICE

Sunday afternoon at the First Christian church, the annual memorial exercises will be held by members of the Richmond lodge of Elks for the purpose of commemorating the departed members of the order. A special program is being arranged and the Lodge of Sorrows, as it is generally known upon this date, will be attended by a number of visitors from out of the city who happen to be here at this time.

This result has been achieved partly by the successful workings of the South Dakota land settlement plan, which provides for the loan of any sum between $500 and $10,000 to former service men for use in paying twenty cent of the upper acre value of land and eighty-five cent of the cost of equipping it with machinery and livestock, a system similar to that which the American Legion has embodied in its four-fold national compensation plan.*Colonel Boy Wales, who led the 147th F. A. regiment of the 32 division and who is land settlement commissioner, is enthusiastic over the results in the short time the plan has been in operation. Up to October 1, 140 former soldiers had received loans and been located on lands. Of this number, Colonel Wales declared that "one hundred per cent are making good, and they all made some improvements and raised some grain." The loans to individuals have averaged about $4,500 each. Most of the men have put in about ten per cent of their own capital, using the balance of it for stock and improvements.*In the course of their farming operations, 43 of these men have raised 1,671 acres of corn, an average of 39 acres each; 26 have raised 685 acres of oats, an average of 25 acres each; and 25 have raised 912 acres of wheat, an average of 36 acres each.*The American Legion will be represented at the conference of Inter-Allied Veterans which opened in Paris November 28 by a delegation from European posts. By Cabo Ward, it has been announced at legion national headquarters at Indianapolis.*The other members of the delegation are Arthur W. Kipling, Dr. E. L. Gros, Lieut. George A. Dunnigan and Norman B. Coaster, all of the Paris post, and W. H. A. Coleman and Colonel Sadler, of the London post. The same delegation attended a recent convention of British veterans.*FIRE BELL GOES BACK*The city fire bell, with an electrical attachment, making the alarms uniform, will be replaced within a few days and the old system will again be in vogue. The siren will be disposed of and returned to the company installing it. It is believed with the new device for sounding the alarm attached the service will be more satisfactory than the siren.*The laides of Richmond get the third article for 9 cents at McKee's sale this week. TREAT FRUIT TREES: GIVE ORCHARD A CHANCE

The Extension Horticulturist of the College of Agriculture has been conducting demonstrations on orchards in various counties in the state of Kentucky. In practically every case it has been found that where good methods have been applied and good management given the orchard, profitable returns have been received. Mr. Joseph Polin, Springfield, had one of the demonstration orchards during the 1920 season. This orchard contained approximately an acre and part of the trees were not given treatment in order to demonstrate what treatment would do as a means of comparison. Mr. Polin has submitted same in testing figures to the extension horticulturist as representing the improvement to crops thru treatment, showing it to be very beneficial.

GIRL'S LOVER WATCHED:

LATER DEVELOPMENTS

Middlesboro, Ky., Dec. 1.—Until Tuesday, Miss Fannie Brasher, telephone operator, who was attacked in the office of the Tri-State Telephone company here Sunday morning at 1 o'clock, remained unconscious or in a semi-conscious condition and talked incoherently. Regaining consciousness Tuesday, she stated that if James Thompson, a former fiancee, did not attack her, she does not know who did. She claims that Thompson last week threatened to kill her.

She says she only saw his assailant's hands, which were "white and woolly." Thompson has made no effort to escape. He and others are under surveillance. Aside from the young woman's opinion no clues have been found.

The story of hair like Thompson's being found in her mouth has been disproved, as it was a strand of manila rope.

BURLEY DIRECTORS NAMED AT LEXINGTON

John W. Neyman, of Versailles, former state commissioner of agriculture, and since its organization in September the temporary head, was elected president of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association at a meeting of the directors Tuesday afternoon at Lexington. C. M. Dean, of Carroll county, and W. H. Shanks, of Lincoln county, were chosen vice president, and E. M. Mansfield, of Carroll county, secretary.

The directors were elected at a meeting of members of the association in the ballroom of the Lafayette hotel Tuesday morning. A. F. Shouse of Fayette county, was one of the 17 directors chosen. The officers elected will serve until the first annual meeting the first Monday in March, 1921.

PLASTERING WORK STARTS

Work of plastering at the new Presbyterian church will start in a day or two and the basement of the new edifice will be the first to receive the attention of the workmen of this craft. It is expected this will be completed within a short time after which the upper portions of the building will be finished. There is little likelihood of the church being completed for the holidays, as was expected for a time, according to the workmen.

SUFFERINGS ENDED AFTER SEVEN YEARS

Mrs. Phillips' Rheumatism Was Gone One Month After She Started On Tanlac.

"I have been taking Tanlac only one month, but already it has put an end to a case of rheumatism that has been troubling me for seven years," said Mrs. Helen Phillips, 2407 Durham street, Tampa, Fla.

"I was all crippled up with muscular rheumatism for so long I had little hopes of getting well. It was worst in my arms and legs and at times I could scarcely get around. My right shoulder also hurt me terribly and it was all I could do to move my arms about. I had gotten into a badly run down condition and felt worn out all the time. Then I had the influenza that left me weaker than ever. My appetite got so poor that I couldn't eat enough to keep up my strength.

"I saw Tanlac so highly recommended that I took it to build me up, not having any idea it would help my rheumatism, but it has done both. I am simply overjoyed at my improvement and I just feel that I am almost starting life over again. The rheumatic pains have all gone and I am as active as I ever was. My appetite is just splendid and everything I eat agrees with me perfectly. That tired, weak feeling has left me and I now feel well and strong in every way."

Tanlac is sold in Richmond by Stockton and Son; in College Hill by Ginter Brothers; in Berea by Welch Department Stores. It

DR. VREELAND SEES DANGER OF WORKING CONVICTS OF ROADS

Rev. Walter Q. Vreeland, for ten years chaplain of the state reformatory at Frankfort, and at present pastor of the Methodist church at Simpsonville, Ky., has sent the following letter to Hon. H. Green Garrett, chairman of the state highway commission:

Simpsonville, Ky., Nov. 5, 1920—Honorable H. Green Garrett, Chairman State Highway Commission, Winchester, Ky.—My Dear Sir: For the ten years immediately preceding June the 1st, 1920, I was chaplain of the state reformatory at Frankfort. In those years I became very much interested in the work of reformation of prisoners and made many warm friendships among those who were unfortunate enough to be there under sentence.

Although no longer officially connected with the prison administration in Kentucky, nevertheless, I still have a deep concern in its welfare and success.

Early in the month of October I read in the daily papers that it was proposed by the state road department to ask the State Board of Charities and Corrections for an additional five hundred men to be worked on the public roads in the near future.

When I read the article, I felt impelled to write to the road department, as well as the State Board of Charities and Corrections, respectfully calling their attention to the dangers that seemed to me to threaten both the inmates and prison administration by such an unfortunate move.

However, I did not write the letter, but yesterday when looking over the Sunday Courier-Journal of October the 31st, my attention was again called to the subject of an article in that paper urging the probe into the death in Harlan county of Miss Parsons, Pine Mountain Settlement School teacher, who was recently assaulted and murdered. I am enclosing you a copy of that article.

The events narrated in the article show very plainly how easy it is to direct the finger of suspicion at men once convicted of crime, who happen to be in the vicinity where a new crime is committed.

The article also illustrates the practical impossibility of having direct supervision over convict while in road work, as well as the impossibility of preventing the evils of gambling among men so quartered and so scattered.

As long as convicts are confined within the walls of the state reformatory, it is possible for the watchful eyes of the prison warden, prison physician and prison chaplain to study each individual convict, to gauge his mental, moral and spiritual condition, and to adapt the treatment he requires to his individual needs, so that in a few years, he becomes eligible to parole, and also industriously, morally, and spiritually equipped for it. He can then be released without guard, and permitted to re-establish himself in society under the supervision of parole officers, or if he violates his parole, he may be returned to the reformatory.

However, with the convict population of the state scattered about in different counties, into widely separated road camps in the same county, and even in smaller scattered groups of the same road camp, the convict is removed many miles from the watchful care of the prison warden, prison physician and prison chaplain. He is entrusted to the custodianship of guards who know rarely anything of modern penology, who have never studied or thought of the psychology of crime or the graduation that the convict passes through from criminality to repentance and parole.

In road camps, the housing and sanitary condition of such camps are necessarily bad, and cannot be favorably compared with similar conveniences of an established reformatory. The visit of the physician to the camp is occasional and he is only called in when a convict is ill. The chaplain sees him rarely, if at all, in the road camps. No provision is made, nor is it practical to make any for religious instructions and services in road camps.

In the road camps, the men are taken from a central point of residence and labor, away from the prison where system and order are being taught, away from the night school where educational instruction is given and the principles of morality inculcated.

In the road camps, the convicts lose the personal contact with the chaplain and are denied the Sunday services that are possible within the reformatory.

The convict, in the camp on the roadside, is the victim of the curiosity seeker, the loafer, the bootlegger and the most depraved type of immoral women, and has before him the constant temptation to escape, that he may do those things which the custodianship of guards will not permit. In any community into which convicts are sent, the tendency is that the presence of the convicts terrorizes a large part of it and women and children are haunted by fear. On the other hand, the danger to the convicts is the tendency to charge upon the convict camp any and all crimes that are committed near it.

The exposure of the convict to the idle gaze of all who pass him on the road exposes him to needless humiliation and the effect of it is to gradually harass him and make him careless of the opinion of the public.

As one who has had ten years experience as chaplain of the reformatory, I very strongly urge you to reconsider the policy of sending these men out into road camps. The public should not be submitted to the temptation which such a situation produces.

In my opinion, until paroled, the best place for the convict is within the walls of the penitentiary where he can come in daily contact with the disciplinary, the sobering, the healthful and the spiritual aid of the warden, the prison physician and the prison chaplain of which the convict is necessarily deprived as soon as you send him upon the public highway.

The life of just one little girl or one settlement worker is too great a price to pay for the experiment of working convicts on the public roads.

Very truly yours,

WALTER Q. VREELAND.

STRONG MEN SOME TIMES TIRE EASILY

But Refuse To Believe That They Are Tired Out—Run Down

Even Athletes Need Tonic

This Husky Chap Admits It, and
Twice a Year Takes Pepto-
Mangan, Red Blood Builder

He is tall (almost six feet), weighs 185, plays golf, works his own garden, and is stronger than most men. He is the picture of health, looks vigorous as a football player.

But he is a bit anemic, gets tired too easily, is inclined to constipation, is more nervous than a normal man should be, and is subject to disfiguring pimples.

He told all this himself, and added:

"Whenever I have the sense or the memory to take two or three bottles of Gude's Pepto-Mangan in the late fall and early spring, I am as right as a trivet. The trouble is, I forget it. If I hired a doctor only to remind me to take Pepto-Mangan twice a year, it would be worth hundreds of dollars to me."

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is an absolutely dependable red blood builder in all conditions of lowered vitality not due to serious disease of the vital organs. It improves the appetite, imparts color to the cheeks, and creates new hope and ambition in those who have become pale, weak and listless. Physicians recommend Gude's Pepto-Mangan. When you order, be sure the word "Gude's" is on the package. Without "Gude's" it is not genuine Pepto-Mangan. Furnished in both liquid and tablet form. For sale by all druggists.

LATE NEWS NOTES

ESCAPE WASN'T FAIR
Lexington, Ky.—G. Washington Redd are said to be organizing with the intention of seizing Berlin, and there is said to be a great apprehension there.

Charles Fitzmorris, 34, former newspaper man, now chief of police at Chicago, is preparing to continue arresting crooks daily in order to rout them.

Monthly payments of pensions, instead of quarterly, is proposed in a bill now being prepared at Washington.

In New York, two boys, aged 10 and 12, have confessed to having broken into eight houses and robbed them.

A watch containing a message 17 years ago found in a tree in Michigan forests tells of the death of a hunter there at that time through starvation.

GOLD ROBBERY CHARGE

Frankfort, Ky.—The governor decided not to surrender Natale Mangione, in jail at Lexington, to Dayton, Ohio, authorities, who charged him with larceny. The prisoner is accused in a Fayette county indictment of having become custodian of part of the loot when $1,700 in gold was taken from a trunk belonging to John Feely in Lexington a year ago.

MEXICANS RETURN HOME
Paris, Ky.—On account of the approach of winter, several hundred Mexicans who have been employed on the E. P. Sims estate were sent back to Mexico, and improvements which have engaged 1,500 laborers were suspended until spring.

FARM LAND $621 AN ACRE
Lexington, Ky.—The W. E. Allen farm of 31 acres, three miles from Lexington, was sold at auction to John Gardner, Fayette county farmer, at $621 per acre.

DEVELOPMENTS PROMISED
Harlan, Ky.—Returning from the state capital, where he interviewed a number of convicts who were in the prison camp here, Judge W. L. Bailey said that there would be further early developments in the investigation into the murder following assault of Miss Lura Parsons, school teacher.

A special grand jury is preparing to investigate general crime in Toledo, Ohio.

Troops Mutiny, Then Fire and Loot Big City (By Associated Press)

Shanghai, China, Dec. 1.—Messages to business houses here today reports troops in Chang, a treaty port in the Hudpeh province, have mutined and seized and set fire to the city and are looting it. The city has a population of 100,000, with about 100 foreign residents. The banks and foreign business establishments have been wrecked, dispatches say.

One Killed In Feud; Another Badly Hurt (By Associated Press)

Williamstown, Ky., Dec. 1.—A long-standing feud between Mont Baird and Earl Steers, farmers, living three miles east of here, resulted fatally for Baird and serious injury to Steers when they met Tuesday. Neighbors found both men lying near each other. Baird was dead and Steers so badly injured that when the sheriff came to his home to arrest him he could not be moved. Steers said he had no weapon when Baird attacked him but ran to his home for his pistol after Baird had hacked him with a handsaw.

OIL STOVE DID IT

Mayfield, Ky.—An exploding oil stove spread flames so suddenly that the home of Bob Snow was destroyed before any furniture could be saved.

IN SUNDAY SCHOOL 75 YEARS

Georgetown, Ky.—At a function of the Barton Stone Bible class, Christian church, it was decided to hang in the class room a picture of James Y. Kelly, who is still a member of the class after having attended it for 75 years.

"I smiled-and he shot me"

AFTER MONTHS and months,

MY WIFE persuaded me.

TO HAVE it done.

SO I went around.

TO THE photographer.

AND GOT mugged.

WHEN THE pictures came.

I SHOWED them to a gang.

OF AMATEUR art critics.

AND PROFESSIONAL crabs.

DISGUISED AS friends.

WHO FAVERED me.

WITH SUCH remarks as.

"DOESN'T HE look natural?"

"HAS IT got a tail?"

"A GREAT resemblance."

AND THAT last one,

MADE ME sore.

SO WHEN friend wife.

ADDED HER howl.

I TRIED again.

THIS TIME they were great.

FOR HERE'S what happened.

THE PHOTOGRAPHER said.

"LOOK THIS way, please."

AND HELD up something.

AS HE pushed the button.

AND NO one could help.

BUT LOOK pleasant.

FOR WHAT he held up.

WAS A nice full pack.

OF THE cigarettes.

THAT SATISFY.

LIGHT up a Chesterfield and sense the goodness of those fine Turkish and Domestic tobaccos in that wonderful Chesterfield blend. Taste that flavor! Sniff that aroma! You'll register "They Satisfy." You can't help it.
